DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kronberg (US 5,499,597).

Kronberg shows a heat alert safety device having an attachment with a flat face having a visible warning symbol made of thermochromic composition which is uncovered for exposed view to undergo a readily perceptible color change. The attachment which is made of ceramic material can withstand temperature at least the 300 ° F.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kronberg (US 5,499,597) in view of Nakasuji et al (US 4,028,118).

Kronberg shows the device claimed except the attachment element being a magnet.

Nakasuji shows a device having the thermochromic material that changes with temperature, and Nakasuji shows that the device can be made of a magnet device. In view of Nakasuji, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt Kronberg with the attachment element made of a magnet device so that the device can be magnetically attached to metal surfaces as desired.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-18 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed 12/14/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The applicant argues Kronberg shows the thermochromic composition that is enclosed by enamel. It is noted that the composition is a broad term wherein the composition having a thermochromic material as well as an enamel material would meet the recited thermochromic composition. Furthermore, it is noted that the applicant discloses the thermochromic composition as a compositions that undergoes and maintains a readily perceptible color change at or above a specified temperature, and since the composition of Kronberg which performs the same functions as that of the disclosed composition, Kronberg clearly shows such composition.

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3742
